Index of names in Brixworth wills proved at the Prerogative Court of Canterbury

by Francis Howcutt

Brixworth church and churchyard

Introduction

Brixworth is a parish some six miles north of the centre of Northampton.

Until 12 January 1858, when the Church probate courts were abolished, the wills of people who lived at Brixworth could be proved at one of the following courts:

- Prerogative Court of Canterbury (PCC)
- Peterborough Consistory Court
- Northampton Archdeaconry Court (NAC)

The majority of the surviving wills were proved at NAC, but 31 were proved at the PCC; these were mainly but not always those of the richer will-makers.

This index aims to help readers decide whether they would like to see an image of the full will, either as a registered copy or the original document of it survives (or a transcript if one should be available). So, is provides the most useful details for helping people make that decision. It was compiled by reading the registered copies of all the wills that were proved at the Prerogative Court of Canterbury where the testator is described in the TNA index as being of Brixworth, Northamptonshire.

Finding PCC wills at The National Archives

The index is a finding aid and not a full transcription, even of the fields included. If you see someone of interest, the next stage is to consult the will itself. The simplest way to do this is to obtain an image of the text of the will as it was copied into the PCC's register at the time of probate[1]:

- Visit the TNA site at: https://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/help-with-your-research/research-guides/wills-1384-1858/
- Enter name and date for the will of interest
- Follow the instructions there for ordering and downloading your copy as a PDF

In order to get your copy free of charge, you need to sign in to a free personal account at TNA before placing the order (it is easy to create an account there if necessary).

Ancestry

You can also download PCC wills, one image at a time, from the Ancestry website if you have a subscription or access to a library with its own subscription. Some wills are quite lengthy, so a number of images may be required for a single will.

Ways to check

TNA and Ancestry each have their own indexes to the images of PCC wills. Generally speaking, the TNA index appears to have fewer transcription errors. The series of images on the two sites were also created separately, so if legibility is poor for those on one site it is worth consulting the corresponding document on the other one.

Some, but by no means all, of the original wills proved at the PCC also survive; they have not been digitised but can be consulted in person at TNA. Only original wills contain the signatures of testators and witnesses and are free from mistakes that may have been made when they were copied into registers at the time of probate.

Dates

For wills proved from 1 January to 24 March in the years earlier than 1752, Ancestry indexes the probate year using the "old style" but the TNA index has converted such dates to the "new style". Therefore, for instance, if the probate date of a will is recorded in the court register as "5 February 1658", it is shown as such in the Ancestry index but as "5 February 1659" in the TNA index. To avoid confusion, transcriptions of such dates should include both styles, in that case as "5 February 1658/9".

Subjects

The index table includes the following people as Subjects:

- The Testator
- Everyone mentioned in the will
- Everyone mentioned in the record of the grant of probate with the exception of the court officials

The Index Fields

Subject's Forename

- Where there is no doubt about the meaning of an abbreviation or variant spelling, the name is standardised to its most common non-abbreviated modern form. Otherwise, it appears in the index as in the original.
- Titles or descriptions such as "Mr", "Rev" or "widow" are only included in the index if no other "forename" is recorded.
- Descriptions such as "senior" or "junior" are not included.

Subject's Surname

- This is the surname stated in the will, using the husband's surname in the case of a married or widowed woman and the father's surname for children of any age unless another surname is recorded for that child (e.g. for a married daughter).
- Where more than one spelling appears in the record, the one most commonly found in the will itself is adopted.
- If there is an alternative surname, the index has a separate record of the Subject for each one, e.g. "Smith alias Jones" and also "Jones alias Smith".

Subject's Place

- Where the Subject is also the Testator only the abode (existing and, where relevant, previous) as stated in the will is indexed. The index does not associate a Subject who is the Testator with other types of places (e.g. where property was held or to whose church or poor folk a bequest was made).
- For Subjects other than the Testator, the Place is usually the abode but sometimes may be where, for example, the Subject owned or rented land and did not necessarily live.
- If a married couple both appear in the will but an abode is specified for only one of them the same place is added in the index for the other person too.
- If the will describes the Subject as a "neighbour" and no abode is specified, the Testator's abode is recorded as the Subject's Place.
- If two or more Places are associated with the Subject (e.g. a former and a current residence), the index entry for the Subject has separate records for each one.
- Where a Place mentioned in the will is complicated, such as a street & locality & county, it is abbreviated, e.g. to "London".
- Counties are mentioned only if stated in the text.
- The names of counties may be abbreviated.
- Provided the identity of a place is not in doubt, its modern spelling is used.

Subject's Role

- Testator - The person who made the will.
- Relative – Where the will states a family relationship either to the Testator or to anyone else. Godchildren are not included in this category but as "Other".
- Other – Anyone mentioned in the will who is not the Testator and for whom a family relationship is not stated, even if the person concerned has the same surname as the Testator. In some cases, the person concerned may in fact be related to the Testator. Occasionally, wills may be proved by someone other than the named executor (e.g. when that person had already died) – in that case the person proving the will is included in the "Other" category.
- Witness – A person who witnessed the signing of the will.

Probate Year

For wills proved from 1 January to 24 March in years prior to 1752, both the "old style" and "new style" years are shown in the index, e.g. as "1658/9".

Testator's Forename

Standardised in the same way as the Subject's Forename.

Testator's Surname

- Where more than one spelling appears in the record, the one most commonly found in the will itself is adopted.
- If there is an alternative surname, the index records it in this way: "Jones alias Smith", adopting the order in the will.

Generally

Unless it is clear that names repeated within a particular will definitely do relate to the same person, the index may include more than one entry for Subjects who had precisely the same name.

If the same person appears in more than one capacity (e.g. as "Relative & Witness" or "Other & Witness") there is a separate index entry for each appearance.
